

Fish Like Me

If you were to drink, to drink it all up:
All of the water in the sea,
You'd never find another fish like me.
If you drank up all the lovely lakes
Fed by the rivers and the streams,
You'd never find another fish like me.
In all of the oceans, in all of history,
You will never ever find another fish like me.
If I were to swim the whole wide world
Up and down, through and through,
I'd never find another one like you.
And if I were to search the starry skies above
With a telescopic view,
I'd never find another one like you.
In all of the earth and in the heavens, too,
I will never ever find another one like you.
Yet it's true: we all have a lot in common, too.
Me and you, us and them,
We all want to live happily ever after.
So come on, let's go,
Together we can find a way back home again.
There'll never be a better time than right now.
Just grab my fin,
I'll start swimming on into anything the future brings.
Let's drink it all in, come on and sing with me,
And have some fun! You'll see
You will never ever find another fish like me.

- Chris Jennings: